

We have now collated and reviewed all responses from the website survey. The feedback shows strong support for moving forward: over 60% of respondents believe that a redesign is important for the future of the website.

Members also highlighted a number of features they would like to see included in a new website. The most popular were:

- Regular news updates
- An events calendar
- A members' directory
- A photo gallery
- Historical archives
- Updates on former pupils and staff ("where are they now?" content)

In addition to new content, respondents identified several key improvements that would enhance usability and overall experience:

- Easier navigation, including a clearer and simplified menu structure
- A modern, refreshed design that appeals to both younger and older OCs
- More links to useful external resources
- Better integration with social media platforms

This feedback provides a strong foundation for planning the next stage of the redesign and ensures the new website will better meet the needs and expectations of members.
